

Donald J. Churnside

Don joined Hershner Hunter in 2020 and has been practicing law in Eugene since graduating from the University of Oregon in 1979. Don values the personal relationships he has developed with clients, and has a reputation as a dogged advocate who works hard to reach the best results for his clients.

Don has served on the Debtor-Creditor, Real Estate and Business Sections of the Oregon State Bar Association, and is a frequent speaker on collection law and debtor-creditor issues. He has authored Oregon State Bar Continuing Legal Education articles on contract law and the execution and foreclosure of liens.

When he's not a lawyer, Don enjoys the great outdoors and beauty of the Pacific Northwest. He is an avid golfer and fisherman and enjoys camping, hiking and spending time with his family and friends.
