

Alexandra P. Hilsher

Ali represents businesses and individuals in all stages of litigation, including early dispute resolution, discovery, motion practice, trial/arbitration, and appeals. She has litigated cases on behalf of plaintiffs and defendants in state and federal courts and in arbitration. Clients rely on Ali's pragmatic and detail-oriented approach to help them evaluate their goals and develop a litigation strategy tailored to their specific needs.

Ali has extensive experience handling complex legal issues. Prior to joining Hershner Hunter, Ali clerked for the Honorable Timothy J. Sercombe of the Oregon Court of Appeals, where she researched and drafted appellate opinions in a wide variety of civil, administrative, and criminal cases. That experience has translated seamlessly to her work at Hershner Hunter, where she has been advising clients through challenging litigation for years.

Outside of the office, Ali enjoys rooting for University of Oregon athletic teams, listening to podcasts, and spending time outdoors with her family.

PRACTICE EMPHASIS

- Complex Business and Commercial Litigation
- Labor and Employment Litigation
- Real Property Litigation
- Appeals

AREAS OF EXPERTISE

- Complex Breach of Contract Disputes
- Shareholder, Partner, and Member Disputes
- Defense of Employment Claims
- Adverse Possession and Easement Claims
- Mediation, Arbitration, Trial, and Appeals

EDUCATION

- University of Oregon School of Law, J.D. (2011)
Order of the Coif
- Centenary College of Louisiana, B.A. (2008)
summa cum laude

ACTIVITIES

- Lane County Bar Association, Board Member
- Eugene Teen Court, Judge
- Laurel Hill Center, Board Member

Representative Matters

From early dispute resolution through appeal, Ali has experience in every stage of litigation:

- Successfully defended large public employer client from employee's constitutional and statutory claims
- Successfully defended a complex adverse possession claim, prevailing on summary judgment prior to discovery
- Obtained prompt dismissal of several commercial claims filed by prominent dairy products company against manufacturing client
- Successfully defended arbitration of member dispute on behalf of medical provider client
- Successfully defended several labor arbitrations on behalf of large public employer client
- Resolved several wage and hour disputes prior to arbitration on behalf of employer client
- Successfully defended numerous subpoenas that sought HIPAA-regulated information from medical professionals and organizations
- Negotiated settlement of boundary line dispute prior to discovery for homeowner client
- Successfully defended appeal of trial court's dismissal of constitutional claim against public employer client
- Obtained declaration that real property CCRs were valid and enforceable against neighboring property owners